NEW PONTE VEDRA UNITED METHODIST CHURCH UNDER CONSTRUCTION

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, Florida – The new Ponte Vedra United Methodist Church is under construction on South Roscoe Boulevard in Ponte Vedra. According to construction manager, LandSouth Construction, the new 15,096-square-foot facility will feature a large worship facility auditorium, teen activity center, nursery, preschool and Sunday school classrooms, catering kitchen and administration offices. Outside, the church will include a children’s playground, memorial garden, additional parking, covered entry, and an open courtyard.

“We are excited to build this new church facility and look forward to worshipping there by the end of the year,” said Jeff Bennett, pastor at Ponte Vedra United Methodist Church.

Jacksonville Beach-based LandSouth Construction is serving as the construction manager on the project and EC Kenyon is the general contractor. Ronald Scalisi Architects P.A. is the architect for the new church. The project is expected to be complete in November.

“Ponte Vedra United Methodist Church is an important part of the Ponte Vedra community and we are honored to play a role in creating its new facility,” said James Pyle, president and CEO of LandSouth Construction and member of the church’s advisory committee.

“My team’s expertise in building and construction is being put to use in a positive way as we help guide and advise the church on the construction of its new worship center.”
